

Recipients

Humanities

Helene Marineau – French

The Concept of Adventure in Twentieth-Century French Prose Fiction

Chris Meacham – Philosophy

Bayesianism and De Re Beliefs

Martin Ponce – Literatures in English

The Transnational Poetics of Anglophone Filipino Literature

José Elías Ulloa – Linguistics

Non-Uniformity in Optimality Theory

Sciences

Ipsita Bannerjee – Chemical and Biochemical Engineering

Development of an adaptive chemistry model for reactive flow simulations

Navin Goyal – Computer Science

Information Theoretic Limitations to Computation

Aaron Lauve – Mathematics

Flag Varieties and Quasideterminants

Juntai Shen – Physics and Astronomy

The Dynamics of Two Common Features in Spiral Galaxies: Bars and Warps.

Social Sciences

Sara Cordes – Psychology

Nonverbal Representations of Time, Number, and Rate

Karen Danna Lynch – Sociology

Merging Culture and Cognition: Sociocognitive Foundations of Multiple Role Enactment

Nia Parson – Anthropology

The Gendered Intersections of Domestic Violence, State Violence and Transition to Democracy in Chile: Implications for Women's Health

Undarya Turmursukh – Political Science

Paradoxical Effects of Foreign Assistance in Post-Socialist Mongolia: Undermining Democracy through Women's Empowerment Programs

Undergraduate

James Lallo – Physics and Astronomy

Alternates

Humanities

Christopher Crosbie – Literatures in English

Logic and the Discourses of Revenge: Marlowe to Milton

Ema T. Guest – Art History

Virgil's eclogues in Italian Renaissance Art

Jacob Ross – Philosophy

Ethics and Rational Optimism

Margaret Sumner – History

Reason, Revelation, and Romance: The Social and Intellectual Construction of Early American College Communities, 1782-1860

Sciences

Igor E. Zrerovich – Operations Research

Hereditary classes of graphs, hypergraphs, and Boolean functions

Xioquin Huang – Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering

Mechanical Characterization of Thin Film Materials with Nanoindentation and Finite Element Analysis

Howard Bondell – Statistics

A Minimum Distance Approach to Robust Logistic Regression

Wenbo Yan – Animal Sciences

Mechanism of Relaxin Action: Cross-Talk with Estrogen Receptor

Social Sciences

Geetexh Bhardwaj – Economics

Long Memory Models and Economic Forecasting

Julie Silva – Geography

Inequality in the Context of Liberalizing Agricultural Markets: Regional Patterns and Local Experiences in Mozambique

Melinda Mangin - Education

Teacher Leadership and Instructional Improvement

Jenna Howard - Sociology

Recovering from Recovery: The Contradictions of Recovering Identities